Accepts Plan With Reservations for Reparations Meet

Demands That Conditions Of Versailles Treaty Be Abided By and That Inquiry Bear Solely On Present Capacity Of Germany.

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 2.—France accepts with cordiality the contemplated collaboration of the United States in a conference of experts to study Germany's capacity to pay reparations. She demands, however, that it should be clearly understood that the proposed inquiry should bear solely on the "present" capacity of Germany and that it should respect all the reparations held by the reparations commission under the treaty of Versailles. This is the substance, it was learned today, of the reply which France has made to the British note of October 31, asking her to join Italy, Belgium and Great Britain in a collective invitation to United States to be represented at the proposed conference. The reply was handed to the embassy yesterday. Its text was not made public.

LONDON IS CONFIDENT
(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Increasing confidence is felt in government quarters here over the prospects for the early organization and meeting of a special reparations committee on which an American economic expert will sit. In the exchange of views which is proceeding between London and Paris respecting the terminology of the collective allied invitation to the reparations conference, it is learned, shows a perceptible desire to soften some of the restrictions he has already set forth.

INJUNCTION DISSOLUTION TO BE SOUGHT TUESDAY

Counsel for the Co-operative Marketing Association intend to ask a court to dissolve an injunction which was granted last Tuesday by Judge Withers against the recently issued restraining order. Harry Wooding, Jr., who is appearing for the association, returned last night from Raleigh and Greensboro, N. C., where he spent Wednesday. He is expected to appear in court Tuesday morning. The injunction was granted by Judge Withers on the basis of a hearing held last Tuesday. The hearing was held in the presence of the attorneys for the association and the warehousemen. The warehousemen's attorneys argued that the injunction was not justified and that the warehousemen should be allowed to continue their business. The association's attorneys argued that the warehousemen were in violation of the restraining order and that the injunction was necessary to protect the association's interests. The court is expected to decide the matter on Tuesday.

PRESENT BOND LIMIT FAVORED

Charter Revisers Think $100,000 Is Sufficient Leeway

Most of Suggestions Acted on Last Night No Action Taken on Amendments Looking to Reversion to Ward System—Referendum Proposition to Be Acted on Later.

The City Charter Commission got down to real business last night after having devoted its time thus far to hearing and discussing suggested amendments to the basic law of the city of Danville. Taking up one by one the numerous suggested changes, votes were taken and while many of the crucial innovations were passed by for the time being action of interest was noted.

The most important action taken last night was the unanimous vote in favor of keeping the present bond limit of $100,000 as it is instead of raising it to $200,000. The council now has the right to issue bonds as high as $100,000 without a referendum to the people and many persons interested in centralizing power in the city council are on record as giving the council greater leeway. The commission adopted in principle the theory of making it as difficult as possible of running the city into debt and without much discussion voted to retain the present $100,000 maximum.

The commission went a step further in dealing with the bond question. For years that clause in the present charter which stipulates that the council may issue no more than $100,000 bonds for making public improvements within a year has been susceptible to different construction. It has not been clear if that $100,000 should apply to the water, gas and electric light plants individually or collectively. The commission last night went on record in favor of changing the language of the clause so as to indicate clearly that the bonds could be issued "for all or any one of the utilities. This change the council's right in a measure on the question of issuing bonds on public utilities.

The referendum suggestion on which many believe the keenest fight will come was not acted on last night. It was brought up but the commission decided to pass it by until all the suggestions have been passed on. By that time it will be apparent whether or not the commission has made any drastic changes to the charter and should this prove to be the case the referendum stands a better chance of being adopted. If only minor changes to the charter are made then it is likely that instead of a referendum the burden of adopting or rejecting the re-written charter will be reposed on the council as suggested in the original recommendation before the council calling for a charter revision commission.

Before the commission began voting on suggested changes last night another suggestion was offered. This was in the form of a petition signed by 24 citizens and asking for three amendments to the charter. The first was that no change be made in the present method of electing city officials, the second asked a provision making it mandatory for every person holding a position with the city, whether elected by the people, the council or appointed by any committee, to be a citizen of Danville. The third suggestion was that the council be made up of 18 members to be elected three from each ward of the city, the terms of office to be so arranged that six members one from each ward would be elected every year. The signing this petition to the commission were C. L. Welford, P. P. Booth, E. N. Oakes, T. J. Barker, M. L. Brown, R. Bruce McKee, G. W. Belcher, G. W. Wells, H. T. Pearson, J. A. Gunn, J. D. Brown, E. P. Shelton, W. H. Harker, C. J. Shelton, N. Newman, J. M. King, W. J. Adams, Chris Schwarz, Eugene Rice, Sam Turner, W. E. Nash and S. S. Hayes.

Action on this petition was "passed by" after brief discussion. The suggestions found no champion on the floor.

One of the first proposed changes which came up was the suggestion that the terms of office of the members of the council be made to overlap so as to prevent the danger of a city council being swept out.

Prof. J. C. McCall of the University of Virginia was a guest of honor last night at the Country Club where the Danville Tobacco auction was held. The Danville Tobacco auction, which was held last night, was the largest of its kind in the South. It was held at the Country Club and was attended by a large number of people. The auction was held by the Danville Tobacco Company and was a great success. The proceeds of the auction were used for the benefit of the Danville Tobacco Company.

Wireless Messages Tell of Difficulty of Vessels at Sea

Tanker Collides With Battleship During Heavy Tide—Steamer En Route From Japan Is Adrift and Another Is Aground—Evidence Of Wreck Of Another Washes Ashore.

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Three major mishaps last night involved four ships and evidenced the wreck of a fifth were reported. The dreadnaught New Mexico, the little coasting steamer Elizabeth, the steamship Oil Tanker S. C. Dodd, and the Japanese freighter Shinkoku Maru, were the vessels definitely involved, while the casting up of a quantity of apples—freight on many a vessel sailing from Washington and Oregon ports—these days—and a ship's spar on the coast of Vancouver Island, gave mute evidence that another if not wrecked, had at least suffered serious difficulty.

First of the mishaps befell the Elizabeth, reported aground and in a precarious situation near Bandon, Oregon. Efforts to obtain more information here caused unusual wireless attention to be turned to the North Pacific and a message from the Shinkoku Maru, reporting she was adrift near the Aleutian Islands, was picked up at Los Angeles, thousands of miles away.

The Elizabeth, it presently developed, was in no danger and her three passengers had been landed. The Northern Radio Stations got after the Shinkoku Maru and learned she had broken her propeller shaft and was off Unimak Island. The Shinkoku Maru, a vessel of 5,800 tons, is en route from Japan to Portland, Oregon. She had no passengers. Radio advices received from Cordova, Alaska, to Bremerton, Washington, stated she was "in ballast and covered a tow."

Meanwhile, from Bamfield, cable station on the coast of Vancouver Island, near the "grave yard of the Pacific" came word that apples and ship's spar had drifted ashore near Bamfield. No identifying marks indicated whence they had come and they remain mute evidence of some vessels battle with wind and water in a region where wrecks have been no numerous and costly in human lives.

Shipping men and newspaper workers had barely taken a full breath after gathering up the available facts on these developments when the tanker S. C. Dodd, with 50,000 barrels of crude oil aboard, was caught in a heavy tide at the mouth of Los Angeles harbor and carried against the battleship New Mexico. Quick work with collision mats enabled the Dodd to reach a safe anchorage, though it was feared for a time the vessel would be sunk because she was so heavily loaded. The tanker lost her entire bow. Several plates on the battleship starboard quarter were pushed inward. The Dodd was bound for San Francisco.

Damages to the Dodd and its cargo were estimated at more than $100,000 while officers aboard the dreadnaught said $30,000 would cover damages to that vessel.

Block Hears His Bid Is Accepted

(By The Associated Press.)
NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 2.—While not officially notified of the acceptance by the government of his bid of $4,750 a ton for the 9,800 ton bulk of the battleship North Carolina, on the way at the navy yard, Nathan Block, president of N. Block and Company of Norfolk, said today that he had information that his bid had been accepted. The amount involved is $12,350.

Mr. Block said the bulk would be cut up in as large pieces as the navy yard as could be transferred to his company's premises in Berkeley, where the material would be cut up in convenient sizes and as fast as it could be reduced to merchantable sizes it would be sold.

COPELAND HERE SUNDAY
Waverly H. Copeland, commander of the Danville Post, American Legion, this morning received a letter from Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, in which he states that he expects to be here on Sunday, November 11th to make the address to the Danville Legionnaires. Recently Senator Copeland was taken ill on a speech making tour in Chicago and had to hasten back to his home in New York. He writes that the indisposition was of brief duration and that he is now well and reaffirms his expectation of being here. Senator Copeland is to speak in the tabernacle on Sunday night. The military maneuvers will be held at the Old Fair grounds on Saturday afternoon.

ANXIOUS OVER FATE OF IMPRISONED GREEK KING

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—There is much anxiety in Greek royal circles and among the people of Greece regarding the fate of their king, who is a prisoner within the borders of the country, and under constant surveillance, says a correspondent in Athens. He says the reason the king did not attend the recent christening of his nephew at Belgrade was that the revolutionary government would not permit him to leave the country for fear he might return.

Saturday night, 9.30, the last performance of the talking Studeoaker. The mysterious "Studeo" will come on 11-2Bri&sat;Rsat.

Only the lives of the king and his nephew Prince Paul, taken on a recent tour, stand between the king and a dictatorship. The avowed aim of the Venizelists is a republic but it must be a civilian republic. The Venizelist leaders will have nothing to do with the present military domination. To deny that they can preserve the dynasty, according to the writer, is that led by General Metaxas, whose recent movement failed because the king and the army refused to join in the general reaction which has been in progress for many months throughout Greece in favor of liberty which the king's government has suppressed. The failure has caused the Venizelists to intensify their campaign against the king.

STATE PUBLICITY AGENT TO SET CITY STRAIGHT

Chatter W. Wormley, publicity agent for the state of Virginia, has promised to make amends in every way for the error which was recently made in Richmond and sent out in a news article from that city purporting to give the per capita costs of government in the cities of Virginia also the counties. After Danville had taken its share of the highest per capita cost of any city in the state was found actually to have one smaller than any of the incorporated cities of the Old Dominion.

Mr. Wormley in a letter received here today declares that he desires to assure the people of Danville that he will do all in his power to correct the false impression made by the original figures. Mr. Wormley disclaims personal responsibility for the error, however, and states that the figures were furnished him by a sub-committee of the state legislative commission on Simplification and Economy of government. The article as he sent it out throughout the state was prepared he says, and presented by the sub-committee.

Mr. Wormley in his letter points out further that the commission has just suspended its sessions and for this reason it has been impossible to obtain formal redress. He has asked, however, that City Auditor Moss prepare a statement "setting Danville straight in the matter of governmental expense" and that he will be glad to furnish this to all of the papers in the state. He also states that he proposes to circulate an article detailing the advantages and progressiveness of Danville.

HORSE HIT BY CAR HAD TO BE KILLED

An ancient and decrepit horse belonging to Robert Ross, negro, after he had been seriously injured when struck by a street car on West Main street, was killed last night at Mt. Vernon church by Officer W. B. Foster at the instance of the owner.

The horse, hitched to a wagon was proceeding toward the town section when he was struck by a street car last night about 7:30 o'clock. After the collision, which knocked him to the street he was able to regain his feet and proceeded as far as Mt. Vernon church. There he showed that his injuries were more serious than had been at first thought. The services of an officer was procured and the animal was shot.

MOTHER TAKES DAUGHTER TO COLLEGE WITH HER

Mrs. Keller faced the world with two delicate children and inadequate funds.

She arrived, two children, trunks, furniture, and all, to teach school in Palm Springs, California.

MRS. LOUISE KELLER AND HER CO-STUDENT DAUGHTER, LORETTA. BEE KELEY, Cal. Nov. 2.—Mother and daughter are vying for honors at the University of California here.

Sweet sixteen, in the guise of Miss Loretta Keller, seeks to outdo the maternal years of Mrs. Louise Keller in friendly competition.

Their arrival at the portals of higher education was fraught with countless hardships and discouragements.

But holding fast to "Mother" Keller's abiding faith in the philosophy that every cloud is lined with silver, the twain never veered from their course.

Today they look backward over the long, long trail which led them over mountains and Indian reservations to the college classroom.

At a nearby age, their father and husband died, when life was still young, out on the plains where he sought to "strike it rich" in his profession as a mining engineer.

The blow left the mother quite destitute, with Loretta on her hands and a still younger daughter who has come along to Berkeley to enter high school.

Through uncertain years, Mrs. Keller, with her face turned ever forward, worked as teacher in a host of towns and once came almost to the point of telling her little brood goodbye forever, when the grim white plague laid hold of her.

Doctors said she would die. But fight reignied her unconquerable soul. From a sick bed she rose and continued on.

And now victory and the dream goal of years is hers. Her daughters are to be educated. Her health has returned to 100 per cent. efficiency as testified by examining physicians at the university.

Darien, who goes under the name of "Red" McKenzie, for stage purposes. His presentation of the psychological reactions of the tramp in the down-and-out was realistic and original. He furnished the comedy that relieved the tension of the wear, tragedy that hovered on the outskirts of the play and never struck.

Julie Carter, from her name, could be mistaken for a French lassie. Her accent would add to the illusion. Perhaps she was; who knows. Anyway she carried her role with precision and grace and added much to the perfection of the show.

Alvin Bruce was an entirely necessary character, in that he was the lover-heroic at times—but needed for to the movement of the play. He did well.

Caliban, Walter James, was just about as such a character should be. In size he was immense; in articulation he was nil. Which was perhaps best.

The story is of a mysterious unfolds its horrors in rapid succession. The story starts with an electrical depiction of an automobile accident; realistic to be sure. An automobile, as it is humming through a hill, there comes a pause, a shocking plunge into a gorge. Then the combination of living and sleeping room of the house is thrown into the scene. A tramp through the door and enters a man carrying a woman, evidently injured, in his arms.

The story is off—and it stops at 11:20 after nearly three hours of hair-raising scenes. The ending is normal; there is nothing wrong with the finish; the villain gets what's coming to him and love and beauty are united. What is more to the point, the audience is satisfied.

3 MEN SPIRITED TO WOODS AND GIVEN BEATINGS

(By The Associated Press.)
TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 1.—Unmasked men last night took at least three residents of Tampa to the woods about six miles east of here, whipped them and left them bleeding and bleeding to make their way back to the city, according to reports made to chief of police Williams today.

Leo Isaacs, restaurant proprietor, under the care of physicians as a result of the beating he got, told newspaper men that four men seized him at the door of his cafe, carried him in an automobile to the woods about six miles from town, where they gave him a whipping. Isaacs said his assailants handed him a letter warning him to close up his business in ten days and not to open it under threat of death.

He has been arrested many times on federal warrants charging liquor law violation, says the authorities. The written warning stated: "If the officers cannot handle you we can and will."

Enrique Ross, head waiter of a well known Spanish cafe here, was spirited away by a band of men to the woods near Oldemar, 15 miles west of Tampa, where he was lashed and left to make his way home. Andrew Williams, negro restaurant proprietor was taken to a point near Myrtle Hill Cemetery, five miles north of here and beaten. Both men received written warnings similar to that given Isaacs. They were signed "Que Oye Que."

American Legion Held Its Monthly Meet Last Night

The regular monthly meeting of Danville Post No. 10, American Legion, was held last night in its quarters at the Memorial Mansion, and there was a good attendance in spite of numerous counter attractions.

Allen S. Clark, delegate to the National Convention from the 5th Congressional District of Virginia, made his report on the National Convention. Mr. Clark stated that the convention attracted about 1500 members of the Legion and Auxiliary, and that nearly 100,000 people took advantage of the reduced rates to San Francisco and were present for the festivities attending the convention. He stated that it was a bright future ahead of it if the type of men who were at San Francisco is any criterion, he stated, and in the new commander (Quinn) they have a man who is a real leader, a man who is a real leader from the shoulder and delivers his message. Under his leadership much progress is expected during the present year. Mr. Clark stated further that the resolution attacking the Ku Klux was voted down almost unanimously and that the resolution that was adopted was a broad one advocating true Americanism. General Hines spoke to the convention, telling of his work in connection with the Veterans' Bureau, and of his hope to have it soon on a better basis than it has ever been before. Secretary of Labor Davis spoke advocating the five year restriction on immigration, which has been one of the leading American Legion platform planks. The retiring commander, Alvin Owsley, of Texas, made a wonderful presiding officer, handled the many questions arising with despatch and being one of the leading orators of the country. The task of Mr. Owsley was to educate the American people on the Legion, and his task has been well performed. He has spoken all over the United States before every kind of organization, and has put the Legion before the people in such a way that a future is bound to mean more and more to the Legion. The convention reaffirmed its stand on the immigration question and on adjusted compensation—not the so called bonus.

At the request of the Danville Post, State Commander John J. Wicker, Jr., invited Mr. Owsley to come to Virginia to speak to the Convention in Danville next August, and he replied that he had made no engagements for next year. Mr. Wicker's reply was that he had accepted the invitation to be in Danville in 1924.

Armistice Day plans were discussed, and full particulars will be published later regarding the parade, and other plans. It was brought out that the maneuvers will be held at Fairview (off Fair Grounds) at Fairview, which lies below the Southern Railway station. These maneuvers will be participated in by the local military organizations, and the D. M. I. cadets. Ammunition for the maneuvers has already arrived and has been tested. The maneuvers will be preceded by a parade in which the various military organizations, representatives from many civic organizations, Scouts, American Legion Auxiliary and American Legion will participate.

On Sunday, Armistice Day proper, it is requested that a silent period of one minute be observed at 11 o'clock, this to be followed by regular church services. The churches are requested to display their service flags at the 11 o'clock service. At 3:30 at the tabernacle on Ridge street there will be a band concert by the Riverside and Dan River Cotton mill band, under direction of Professor Vezetti. This concert will last about 30 minutes, after which Royal S. Copeland, U. S. senator from New York will deliver the address of the afternoon. He will be introduced by Col. S. W. Minor, whose regiment in the 20th division was conspicuous for its work in breaking the Hindenburg line. Professor Vezetti requests that members of all the church choirs meet with him and the band at the tabernacle at 2:45 in order to rehearse two musical numbers which it is proposed to render. Another feature of the Armistice Day celebration will be the showing at the Broadway Theatre, under auspices of the American Legion of the famous film play "The Man Without a Country." This picture is shown in an effort to educate the people to a more loyal devotion to their country—the U. S. A. It is an adaptation of Edward Everett Hales famous book of the same name.

During the week preceding the showing of this picture speakers will go to all the schools of the city, the school board having agreed to cooperate with the Legion. Legionnaires generally will have tickets for sale, and they will be placed on sale at numerous stores in the city. Milton Hernan, Miss Claudia Lewis and Dan Dickerson are in charge of the sale of tickets. It was stated that the officers of the legion did not want to ask the public for money to pay the expenses of the Armistice Day celebration, and that they expected to realize enough from the picture to pay all Armistice Day expenses. It was again pointed out that the Danville Post realized profit only on those tickets sold in advance, and that every member of the Post was urged to see that a large advance sale was made. Vice Commander Conway, stated that every one approached has expressed a willingness and desire to help put across the celebration in fine way, and have agreed to cooperate in every way possible in making every phase of the Armistice Day celebration a success. The event Senator Copeland arrives in Danville Saturday, it is the purpose of the legion officials to have a supper in his honor, to which members of the legion and Auxiliary will be invited, as well as a group of prominent citizens. Hon. Harry Wooding, Mayor of Danville, has accepted appointment as chairman of the reception committee and the personnel of his committee will be announced a little later.

The address or lecture by Professor J. C. Metcalf, of the English department of the University of Virginia, delivered before an audience of probably 450 people representative of the reading and cultured element and the educational interests of this city in the lecture-room of the Main Street Methodist church annex yesterday afternoon, held the attention of the audience for an hour and a quarter. During which he presented a most judicious and informative address. Dr. Metcalf's subject was the modern novel, and his treatment of the theme he found opportunity for the expression of his own individual tastes and literary judgment. In the opening portion of the lecture it seemed not unlikely that the speaker would be pessimistic in praising modern American fiction, but as he developed his theme and traced the changes of theme and treatment by writers of the last generation or more it became apparent that he was more judicious and weighed the merits and demerits of the varying schools of fiction and finally held out the hope that the tendency of fiction writers of today was veering back toward the happy ending and the wholesomeness of the later Victorian period yet preserving many of the desirable qualities of the various intermediate schools of fiction. In fine, he expressed the hope based on a careful study of developments that the novel of the early future would in its theme, treatment and influence enthroned beauty, virtue and truth, the three essentials of the really great novel.

METCALF REVIEWS MODERN FICTION

Perhaps the most noteworthy phase of the address was that in which the speaker traced the development of internationalism. He took issue with what some were inclined to characterize as provincialism as instead a faithful chronicle of sentiment and action superior to the ordinary old lamps, it burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clear safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, O. S. Johnson, 542 N. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—adv.

tion that the famous Welshman was as much at home among Virgilians as among his own people. The speaker also commended the American people for the breadth of their tastes in fiction-reading and asserted that comparatively few of the objectionable and offensive type of novels so much in demand in Europe found a reading public or a sale in this country.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED.

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, mending and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for women's ills. A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to the ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clear safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, O. S. Johnson, 542 N. tion that the famous Welshman was as much at home among Virgilians as among his own people. The speaker also commended the American people for the breadth of their tastes in fiction-reading and asserted that comparatively few of the objectionable and offensive type of novels so much in demand in Europe found a reading public or a sale in this country.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED.

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, mending and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. Report Shows 1,920 Danville Persons Made Out Income Tax Returns In 1921

By GEORGE H. MANNING
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2. — Danville had 1,920 residents who were sufficiently prosperous in 1921 to make income returns to the government for that year. These were slightly more than two per cent. of the 76,257 people filing returns in the entire state, and about eighty per cent. of the 2,377 who reported from Pennsylvania County.

Tabulation of the figures just announced by the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue show that 63 per cent. of the income tax returns filed for 1921 in Virginia were filed by residents of the ten larger cities of the state, the total number of reports from these being 43,323.

Richmond, with 16,000 residents making reports of their incomes to the government, led the state, with Norfolk, having 12,320 coming second. Portsmouth was third, with 7,840; Lynchburg fourth, with 2,380; Roanoke fifth with 2,750; Newport News sixth with 2,705; Alexandria seventh with 2,030; Danville and Petersburg tied for eighth with 1,920 each. The numbers for other towns and cities were: Hampton, 1,300; Charlottesville, 920; Clifton Forge,

1,200; Staunton, 640; Suffolk, 555; Bristol, 520; Winchester, 480; Fredericksburg, 360; Harrisonburg, 360; and Loudoun, 350.

Norfolk was the leading county in the number of persons making returns of their incomes, with 17,713. Henrico was a close second, with 17,352; Arlington came third, with 4,370, more than Roanoke, which had 3,251, or Campbell, with 3,223. Warwick had 3,186, Pennsylvania, 2,377 and Davidson, 1,951. These eight counties combined had 53,356, or seventy per cent. of the whole number of residents of Virginia who made reports.

Greene county was at the bottom of the list, with only five returns. Charles City had eight, Highland three, Lee, Craig and Essex eighteen each, Cumberland twenty, Powhatan twenty-one, Floyd twenty, Bland ten, and Rappahannock twenty-four.

The number of returns filed in Virginia in 1921 was much smaller than in 1920, the total for that year having been 92,576, making a decrease of 16,319 or 17.7 per cent. for the year. The number of reports for the entire United States also dropped, from 7,259,944 in 1920 to 6,662,176 in 1921, a decrease of 8.2 per cent.

Ex-Crown Prince In Germany Says Reports; Are Denied

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Reports that former Crown Prince Frederick William, exiled in Holland since the war, had returned to Germany were in circulation this morning, finding public through the columns of the Deutsche Zeitung. Inquiry however, quickly brought denials.

Members of the Hohenzollern family at Potsdam declared there was no truth in the rumors, while at Berlin, upper Silesia, which he was reported to have reached, it was declared Frederick William had not arrived.

It is known nevertheless there has been informal discussion recently of the question of allowing the ex-crown prince to return and it is considered a possibility that he may shortly be permitted to do so on condition that he remain quiet on his upper Silesian estate at Oels, where it is said he desires to settle down.

A THOUGHT

Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass
 him about.—Ps. 32:10.

None but such as are good men
 can give good things, and that which is not good, is not delicious
 to a well-governed and wise appetite.—Milton.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1923.

NUISANCES AND SINS

Many persons feel an aversion to an unchanging code of morals. This may be the reason that, every now
 and then, modern amendments or additions have been suggested to the decalogue. None of these supplementary commandments have found much favor with the people, but the ones proposed by the Rev. Charles Francis Potter of the Westside Unitarian church, New York, have a freshness about them that seems at first
 to meet our modern needs.

It is our crowded and complex
 modern life that has raised these trivial offenses to the rank of "sins."
 According to the Rev. Mr. Potter, he groups them under the name of "social trespass," and enumerates the following examples:

Midnight music on the phonograph, loud conversation on public conveyances where many persons
 have their only chance to read, toot-ling an automobile horn in front of a house you summon a friend, using the telephone for any trivial reason and the particular offenses of the holiday noise-maker, the story teller,
 the late appointment keeper and the forgetful borrower.

Everyone will admit that these are nuisances but, on second thought, no
 one would call them sins, for while we speak lightly of "sins" against
 "good manners," we reserve the word
 in its most serious sense, for deliberate wrongdoing. Sin involves guilt and guilt implies intention to do wrong. If the Rev. Mr. Potter were to preach a dull sermon, he would lose his audience, but he would not do so intentionally. So of the other offenses on the list. Loud talking may be no more intended as an offense on a train than it is the tootling
 of the locomotive; it is only when it is forbidden, as a library, that it takes the form of guilt. No one can believe the Rev. Mr. Potter quite serious in his proposal to add to the Ten Commandments the instances
 he gives as examples of selfishness or thoughtlessness.

NEW ORDER NOT DESIRABLES

The doctrine of the "new economic order" is being preached far and wide these days, but it is doubtful if any two of the persons who are engaged in the propaganda on radicalism
 can agree on what they mean by the "new order." There never has been a time in the history of the world when conditions were ideal,
 and it is doubtful if that time ever
 will come. There are undesirable conditions to be overcome, but experience
 shows that a radical program
 cannot be carried out without the aid of the government. The doctrine of the "new economic order" is a great deal about the hands that will come to the common people
 through adoption of the "new order."
 They are careful to avoid the Russia, which is the only great experiment in which the Bolsheviks have been in control. The results are speaking for themselves. There are no economic, and any system that involves the confiscation, or any other without compensation, of the property of others is opposed to a principle of right that is common to all people.
 Either ignorance, or lack of
 back of the movement of communism, or the holding of property in common and it is probable that both are involved. The system was advanced 2,000 years ago by a body of men and women in the first Christian church, and it is not changed
 in character when advocated by America.

groups of unscrupulous men today.
 Mankind has made a great progress
 in the last century, and there is reason to believe that greater achievements lie just ahead. They will not come about by destroying what has already been built and substituting
 an uncertain and vague thing called the "new order."

WOOD AND THE MOROS

Major General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines,
 found his argument against independence for the islands with a protest
 from the Moros of Mindanao, savage,
 tribal and pagan, who signed a document written in perfect English,
 which they can neither read, write
 nor speak, by the simple expedient of thumb-printing. This masterful exhibit, the governor-general sends
 on to Washington, smugly satisfied that it proves beyond doubt that the Filipinos are neither fit for self-government nor desirous of it. All that General Wood will accomplish by such puerile pursuits is to raise in America a mighty distrust of legiti-mate arguments he may put forth
 against self-determination for the people we long ago promised free nationalism. Everyone knows that the Philippines are inhabited not alone by unlettered thumb-printers,
 but by large numbers of intelligent,
 able ambitious and proud young people in whom the proper urge for freedom is not to be lightly pressed.
 If General Wood has petitions to present, let them be from Filipinos who are able to understand what they are signing.

THE BREAKING POINT

(Dearborn Independent.)

The idea is sooting in. Interest-bearing debts have all but sunk American municipalities. Slow as are the borrowers to get the idea, the lenders are already alarmed. Here is what the representative of a bond
 company said to the League of Municipalities, as reported in the magazine
 Minnesota Municipalities:
 "I wish to call attention to the direction in which municipal borrowing
 is now headed. We bond men live as we do, and sell bonds, but nevertheless we have a feeling that we are being called upon to buy and sell too many municipal bonds for
 the permanent health of the communities for which we are selling.
 Take Minneapolis and Hennepin County as notable examples. The last session of the legislature authorized the issuance of bonds for several purposes which will probably be sold in the next two years equal to the aggregate to at least a one-fifth
 increase in the present bonded debt of city and county. Interest and sinking fund on these new bonds
 must be added to the present debt-paying schedule. . . . Many of the smaller cities are tending in the same way toward heavily increased borrowing."

A Minneapolis official also said:
 "Municipal bonding may be described as the drug habit of modern government. It provides an easy means of securing funds to make desired improvements, while obscuring the burden to be thrown upon the taxpayers. It is not unusual to find outstanding bonds which have been inspected to provide money for improvements which have long since been placed. . . . Like all drug habits, it is easy to acquire but difficult to keep within proper bounds."
 There are the two ends of the business—the profit end and the paying
 end. When the latter end is neglected, it becomes an emergency. Not in Minneapolis—the reference here is not to that city. Compared with some cities, Minneapolis is a paragon
 of prudence. But the whole system is financially, socially and morally wrong.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Clifford C. Robinson

The person who leads the "simple life" does not fall a victim to cir-
 cosis, or hardening of the liver.
 This trouble, which always results
 fatally unless taken under skillful treatment in its early stages, seems in the great majority of cases to be resorted for the high fivers in eating (other favorite food since beer has gone "fat" and the socially convivial
 souls, who drink a little to keep up custom but neglect or side step the real health of their bodies.

The disease is caused by over-eating of rich, highly seasoned foods,
 also by malaria, diabetes and the habitual use of alcoholic drinks.
 The old-time drinker was a good subject
 for cirrhosis. The present-day drinker has no time to contract the disease. He succumbs too quickly to the modern drinks. The toxic or poisonous part of alcohol is carried directly to the liver unaltered, from
 the stomach and intestines.
 It starts at once in its destructive work on the liver and connects the work of the symptoms of first present nature that seems to interfere with the normal circulation of blood circulation from the stomach, intestines
 and spleen, into and from the liver.
 Some loss of weight, also a decrease
 in weight with a sluggish elimination, coated tongue and dyspepsia,
 are some of the early symptoms.
 The process of shrinking and hair-falling goes on all the time, however, and the patient is not aware of it until it is too late. The glands
 and hair cells at last become atrophied,
 while near the final stage the
 liver is filled with fat particles.
 A yearly health examination by your physician will help you to avoid such a condition.

OBJECTS WEIGH LESS GOING EAST

(By The Associated Press.)
 LONDON, Nov. 2.—The cargo of the ship "The East" was the heaviest ever seen at the docks. Professor W. G. Dill-ley, who occupies the chair of physics at the University of London, has found that objects weighing less in the East
 than in the West, because extended to the East, are heavier in the same direction as the earth is revolving.
 Therefore, he said, a 50,000-ton
 ship, after would weigh approximately 100 tons less on its journey
 to England than when traveling to America.

Scoop's Colym

DRAKES BRANCH, November 2.— (Grapevine. Wireless—Synthetic Farming: Now we know what's become of the farmer.
 The word is passed along that J. B. S. Haldane, an English scientist, predicts
 chemical synthesis of food
 within 120 years to a degree that will rate
 agriculture a luxury, and
 mankind will be completely urbanized. A hard fate for the agriculturist, and a hard living
 for poets and artists if such there be in that distant day. And what of the gardens tilled by suburbanites and commuters? It fares the day when no seed
 catalogue may proclaim
 man's kinship with the soil.
 Chemistry then art, art
 Take thou what course thou wilt.
 But invitation to choice is only
 fealty to courtesy when meals
 hold a single course. If the crystal in good kelter the folk
 are up and about when his forecast falls down as well take their calories from a needle.
 And who is to take old Judge
 Palate's place? "Dame Science," you say? Well, well, so it goes, so it goes. Poor old fellow, he made mistakes, but no one can hope to please all tastes.

Woman.

She may love you like a mother or a sweetheart or a wife.
 She may think the whole world of you
 —even sacrifice her life;
 She may surfeit you with kisses, with caresses smother you with
 And may give you all the sweetness
 of a love that's pure and true;
 She may cheer you when you're weary, fold your head to her warm breast,
 Smooth your drowsy eyelids softly,
 and, of course, you know the rest.
 Fine! But, listen, and don't tell her, not a word—she will never know.
 How to keep a secret secret; don't forget I told you so!

She may tell you she adores you, that
 your whim is her command,
 Serve you like a friend and humbly, follow you on sea and land;
 Grant the smallest thing you wish, and give you all that she can give,
 Crush, for you, her aspirations: in
 your voiced approval live;
 She may say you're her existence,
 you're her moon and stars, and
 And may give you that companionship
 which woman gives but one.
 Great! But, just the same, be awful careful 'bout the things you say,
 Or, unwitting, she'll betray you—this you'll know yourself some day!

Automotive Prohibition.

The King has directed officials in Sweden to make "all haste" and investigate a new motor fuel he has heard exists within his kingdom. Out of the waste products of paper mills
 when tried in automobiles, this material had the disadvantage of requiring a special engine and a new carburetor, and even with these conveniences it seems to have clogged the engine. By redistillation, however, the possibility of use appears to have been removed.

At this point, however, the Board
 for Control of Alcoholic Liquors stepped in and threatened to destroy the prospects of a country without petroleum rendering its motor cars
 free from dependence upon foreign supplies of fuel. Being highly suspicious by nature, the Board held to the view that the liquid must be inebriating. It has now concluded that there is no danger on this score to the public, as the stuff cannot be used as a beverage. Thereupon, the King expressed his official interest.

The Light That Didn't Go Out.

Clancy stopped his friend Sweeney
 on the street one day.
 "I hear you've moved, Sweeney.
 How do you like your new place?"
 "Well, Mike, it costs a lot, but there is a lot goes with it. And then their new conveniences are great things.
 Sure, we've been livin' a month there
 now, and the first day we lit the gas
 range in the kitchen and it ain't out
 yet."—Everybody's Magazine.

Can You Imagine It?

Girls, can you imagine your mother retting as great a thrill out of the new sewing machine when she sees your age as you do out of that machine in the garage? And yet she did.

A man, says Joe Doolittle, takes a great many steps for a woman before marriage. But it is nothing to the steps a woman takes for a man
 after marriage.

Nothing is so essential to the day's work, think Bob Friedman, as getting rid of the non-essential.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

She was plump, and warm, and filled
 my arms.
 Yes, filled my arms—with books.

THE PLODDER

In those bright young days when,
 speaking collectively, we knew all
 there was worth knowing, many of us entertained the ambition to conquer the world in a brilliant manner
 and set the universe afire with our success. But how many of us attained that ambition? It is the boy who was the plodder in the school room who is holding an executive position and how bosses some of the rest of us. He is the fellow who kept continually hammering at his lessons.
 He made haste slowly and remembered what he learned. It was not by a single stroke that he expected success to reward his efforts. It was inch by inch, step by step, round by round, that he expected to scale the ladder of attainment, and he has not been disappointed.

It is the plodder who is doing the big things in the world today. Let us learn from his example.

INSURANCE

How much insurance do you carry?
 In other words, how much do you value your life? There are 120
 Americans insured for a million dollars or more apiece. Among the 120
 are many movie stars.

They are simply betting the insurance companies that they'll die before the examining physicians can find them. A million dollar bet used by the frenzied fiction. Now it's a fact.

GIANTS

A race of people six feet tall, non-taller, none shorter, could be produced by proper medical treatment
 of the endocrine glands, especially the thyroid gland in the neck. This is the old view expressed at the clinical congress of American College of Surgeons.

It should especially interest the Japanese.

And if the rest of us don't keep an eye open, the efficiency experts may decide to consider humanity. The job is well started—in the matter of standardized clothing, food, routine,
 amusement and thought.

SHOWS

Nearly 100,000 people a day attend theaters and movies in New York City. An unknown percentage of them is composed of visitors from out of town. But the ratio of theatergoers to population probably is not much larger than the average for the whole country.

"THE FOOL"

BY CHANNING POLLOCK

Illustrated by A.W. SANFORD

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Clare Jewett, in love with the Reverend Daniel Gilchrist, writes Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity
 in New York because of his radical sermons. Gilchrist is sent to the coal mines by Goodkind senior and wires that his strike is settled.

A delegation of strikers comes north to interview the president and directors. They are received in Jerry's home, first Stedman, then Hennig and Umanski. They do not meet with much success. Umanski is angry because her dinner party is interrupted by Jerry's business meeting.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I mean that that is where she was working. She's at her sister's now—up at Pittsburg. Left the day before I was elected to come up here.
 I sent her a telegram."
 "You don't say so," said Goodkind,
 then turned to Jerry with: "Anything the matter with that bell?"
 "The man's busy, I suppose," said
 Jerry. "I'll show them out."

The elder Goodkind shook hands
 graciously with Stedman and Hennig. When he reached Umanski he found the immobility he had encountered before. The tall figure burned him with his eyes.

Stedman turned at the door to whisper the promise of a visit later
 and Jerry, ushering them out, turned to inform his father that they were
 "swine."

The tardy servant entered with an explanation that he had been signing
 for a box he carried, for Mrs. Good-kind. A moment later he handed it to her as she came from the music room. Clare evinced little curiosity
 as to its contents, putting it under her arm unopened.

"Everbody's gone," queried Good-
 kind looking up from a desk at which he had seated himself.
 "They're all down in the billiard room," she said with an infection
 that indicated she was either bored
 or angered. "We wanted to make up a couple of tables of bridge, but
 with the men in here—as usual.
 Where's Jerry?"

"Downstairs for a minute," replied
 Goodkind.

"I've seen him just 10 minutes this week," said Clare.

"He's only been back three hours,"
 laughed Goodkind.

"Well—" and she was showing her displeasure now—"I wish he wouldn't break up my dinner parties."

Goodkind pushed back the papers
 before him and moved toward her.

Sensations in Case of Princess Increase

Return Of First Husband Reported By Her As "Dead" Adds to Complications—At Odds With Second Hubby—Charges Own Sister Is Other Woman.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A sensation was added yesterday to the break between Princess Elaine von der Lippe-Lipsky, the former Mrs. Wendell Phillips, and her husband, Prince Nicholas von der Lippe-Lipsky, for her passage to the czar of Russia when Charles Lee Phillips, the princess's first husband whom he is alleged to have asserted was dead, emerged from obscurity.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation. While the creosote goes on to the stomach is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is a guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. (Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.)

Mrs. Croker Says She Is Attacked From All Sides

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Asserting that a concerted attack was being made upon her on both sides of the Atlantic, Mrs. Bula Edmondson Croker, widow of the late Tammany leader, declared last night that Glennaron, her Irish estate, had been raided and searched for papers a day or two before the filing of another suit involving Croker's will at West Palm Beach, Florida, last Monday.

After successfully defending suits brought by the Croker children to contest the will of her husband, Mrs. Croker said she had been notified of an action brought by Joseph Mengel, mayor of West Palm Beach and W. E. Myers, treasurer of the local Young Women's Christian Association, to compel the opening of a safe deposit box in a local bank alleged to contain Croker's last will.

The questions which the alleged will is said to contain, Croker's widow stated, are identical with the provisions of her own will, made in November 1919 and which she subsequently revoked. A transcript of this document, she said, had been produced in court at the trial of the first will case in Dublin and undoubtedly furnished the basis for the allegations of the West Palm Beach suit. It was also possible, she hinted, that the information could have been obtained from papers which might have been stolen from her home in Ireland.

Mrs. Croker declared that no will would be found in the safe deposit box, and she hinted that the information could have been obtained from papers which might have been stolen from her home in Ireland.

She is now in New York to defend an action brought by Richard Croker, Jr., in which he seeks to "recover $320,000 from the Croker estate, as the result of an agreement alleged to have been made upon the partition of the property of Croker's first wife.

NORTHWEST LOOMS AS NEW MECCA FOR CHORUS QUEENS

DOROTHY LAWSON

SPOKANE, Nov. 2.—Westward ho! With great hue and cry the shout goes up mid the charmed camps of eastern pulchritudinous pony pickers.

Hence their wisdom in turning faces toward the setting sun and this virgin garden of spotlight beauty newly discovered by Charles W. York, local theater manager.

Nowhere, informs this impresario, are the ladies so fair or well developed, as out here in the pine-clad hills of Washington.

And in substantiation of his claims, he presents a chorus of 24 talented, ambitious and peppy young nymphs in a rollicking skit entitled "Laugh-liners."

The ensemble is recruited entirely from best families of the town.

They represent respected daughters of clergymen, butchers, bakers and candlestick makers.

Like the vivacious Dorothy Lawson, whose picture graces the upper portion of this space, all are equally attractive.

You can take York's solemn word for that.

"We raise 'em talented and pretty up here," he says. "And this season's ambitious and peppy young nymphs are plentiful."

Internal Strife Of K. K. K. To Be Aired In Court

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 2.—The alleged internal strife of the Knights of Ku Klux Klan will be aired in the Georgia Supreme Court today.

Presenting David M. Rittenhouse and others announced today. Judge John H. Humphries yesterday overruled a petition by Rittenhouse asking appointment of a receiver for the organization and at the same time denying a petition for a temporary injunction to restrain distribution of Klan funds.

Rittenhouse's counsel were today preparing to take the case to higher court for review.

The hearing of the Rittenhouse petition started Monday. Allegations in affidavit form were presented by the plaintiffs, which caused quite a stir in Klan circles and which were denied by the defense.

Judge Humphries denied the petition on the ground that the evidence had failed to justify the appointment of a receiver. Referring to the injunction asked to restrain the distribution of Klan funds, the court said that it was denied on the ground that "there was no immediate, positive alleged act to be enjoined."

DAILY PUZZLE

The days have gone since men were made, some have said, of firmer. They oft set forth in quest of — Deterred by neither fear nor — The last word in each line of the verse is omitted. Each word is composed of four letters, and the words rhyme with one another. Can you supply the missing words?

Yesterday's answer:

From the arrangement of the books in the drawing, move volumes 1 and 3 in between 6 and 4, making the order 6-1-3-4-5-2. On the second move, place volumes 6 and 1 in between 2 and 5, making the order 2-4-6-1-3-5. On the third move, take 1 and 2 from the right end of the row to the left, which brings the volumes into their correct order, 1-2-3-4-5-6, in three moves.

MEXICAN DEPUTIES ADVOCATE SIX-YEAR TERM FOR PRESIDENT

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—A group of deputies have announced their intention to inaugurate a campaign for the reformation of Article 83 of the constitution in order to lengthen the presidential term from four to six years. They assert that under the present system the executive has only two years to devote to constructive work, since during the other two his time is fully occupied by purely political questions.

Mitchell that the city revert to the ward system and the bicameral council was passed by indefinitely without debate.

Clarification of the tax laws contained in the charter on which subject commissioner of the revenue P. G. Ragland has made written suggestions will be taken up at the next meeting when Mr. Ragland will be asked to appear in person and amplify his suggestions orally. The city attorney was asked to go over the changes with Mr. Ragland.

The fee question was brought up and discussed at some length. P. W. Townes in his recent suggested amendments urged that the fee system insofar as it relates to city officers be abolished since it promotes dissatisfaction. His suggestion was that salaries be paid and the fees turned in. It was held by the commission that as these fees are fixed by the state to abolish them and put such officers on a straight salary would virtually mean the taking of money out of the city treasury and turning it into the state treasury. However, this matter was not disposed of definitely and it will be revived at a later date. Another amendment offered by Mr. Townes was passed by on motion of Commissioner Marshall. This was a suggestion that the council eliminate the two-thirds rule and that a simple majority rule in every instance.

Mr. Townes' suggestion that the schoolboard be made elective by the people instead of by the council was also passed by without any action being taken though this was discussed. A question of the city's right to interfere with the provisions of the state law providing for the election of the schoolboard was raised and was referred to the city attorney but an opinion. Some of the commissioners apparently concurred with the author's views stating that the people should elect the schoolboard and not the council since the board is responsible in no way to the council but constitutes a separate entity in administering the city schools. One of the members of the schoolboard was quoted as declaring that the schoolboard is too large and that it should be reduced. One view presented was that if the schoolboard was elected by the people desirable men and women would be tempted to withdraw as candidates should they find a contest on their hands and that the present system should prevail.

There were several objections raised to the elimination by charter provision of the police commission and placing the whole police machinery under the council where it resposed several years ago. There was sympathy expressed with the view that the mayor should be relieved of having to appoint two members of the commission of which he is chairman, from the council as is provided by the last amendment to the charter. No action was taken, however, because Commissioner M. K. Harris, who suggested this change was not present last night. Before passing on the suggestions made by Councilman Townes it was agreed that he should be invited before the commission to explain himself more clearly on the fee problem.

Nearly all of the suggested amendments proffered by Frank Talbott were passed by last night. The technical amendment authorizing the city to sell its power and light outside the city was at once approved, however. The proposed appointment of a commission to administer the three city utilities—this commission to be appointed by the council was passed by in order to give Mr. Talbott the opportunity to appear personally and to explain his views on the subject. The proposal giving the city the right to acquire the street car company and to operate it as an additional public utility was passed by without more than some humorous suggestions directed at Commissioner C. C. Holland, president of the Danville Traction Company. The commission was of opinion that it would be impossible to include in the charter a provision providing for a city planning and zoning commission, and it was passed by.

A final suggestion which came last night from the city auditor and which was adopted unanimously was that the city be allowed to own more than 200 acres of land outside the city. This restriction is contained in the present charter. The commission raised the limit to 1,000 acres.

Seven commissioners attended last night, W. P. Boatwright, E. H. Marshall, E. W. Brown, J. E. Ramsey, C. C. Holland, D. Price Withers and J. M. Martin. The absentees were M. K. Harris and D. E. Graham, Jr.

More definite progress was accomplished last night than at any other meeting yet held. With a majority of the proffered suggestions definitely disposed of, it remains now for the commission to pass on what was conceived to be the most radical suggestions offered. It is noted that some of the written suggestions made were passed by without any reference to their future fate while others were passed by with the explicit understanding that they be brought up again at the next meeting. In some quarters it is believed that two more meetings will see the charter revisers' work complete and the re-written and amended document after being prepared in printed or typewritten form will be presented to the council should the commission vote down the suggestion that it be submitted to a referendum. If the charter is placed before the people for a vote, some time will have to be allowed to comply with the law bearing on elections.

No intimation has been given as to how the commission stands on the question of the referendum. Two views appear to obtain, one that to submit it to the people would virtually insure defeat of the amended charter because of the opposition which might be provoked by single provisions in the document and that the city council is the logical body to determine what is best for the city. The other is that in view of important changes—some of which have been issues in popular elections before, the right of popular suffrage should not be denied and that the people at large should be called upon for an expression in order that the popularity of the amended charter may be clearly defined.

Rev. J. S. Gresham Here; Dr. Senter Is Due Tomorrow

The first of the incoming ministers assigned to Danville to fill the vacancies caused by the removal of pastors completing their four-year terms arrived shortly before 10 o'clock this afternoon. He was Rev. J. S. Gresham who came from Hampton and who was assigned by Bishop Warren H. Candler to Calvary Methodist Church in North Danville. Rev. Mr. Gresham was met at the station upon his arrival on the train from Richmond and was escorted to the parsonage in North Danville where a committee of churchwomen had prepared an appetizing dinner and where he was warmly welcomed.

Rev. J. T. Allen, who has been pastor of Calvary for the past four years left this morning with Mrs. Allen for their new church at Larchmont, Norfolk.

Rev. Samuel T. Senter, Mrs. Senter and their two daughters are expected to arrive here tomorrow from Lynchburg to take up the pastorate of Mount Vernon Methodist church. They also will be met at the station by a committee from the church and conveyed to the Mount Vernon parsonage where they will be greeted in old-fashioned Virginia style by a committee of women from the congregation who will serve supper. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Robertson and their children left for Petersburg in their car this morning. He is assigned to Trinity church in that city.

Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Newton are leaving this afternoon for their new assignment. Centenary church, Lynchburg. They also are traveling by automobile. Rev. G. W. M. Taylor who was appointed to succeed Rev. Mr. Newton is not expected in Danville until next Friday. The incoming minister is from the South Carolina conference and it was impossible for him to arrange to come from Edgefield before next week. On Sunday Rev. S. J. Battin, the presiding elder, will preach at that church.

All of the departing ministers have been the recipients of material tokens of esteem and affection as well as warm wishes for success in their new fields of labor.

Good Morning Judge!

The police court docket was this morning cleared of several long pending cases. There were not many cases although three hours were consumed, the session lasting until noon.

The case of Clifton Wilborn, charged with running over Mrs. Thomas Crane several weeks ago with his automobile, was sent to the grand jury, following a lengthy hearing which saw much conflicting evidence. Wilborn was charged with operating the car which struck and badly injured Mrs. Crane. He testified and produced witnesses, who also corroborated him in declaring that he was elsewhere at the hour of the accident. Wilborn claims an alibi, contending that he was not the man who struck Mrs. Crane.

C. R. Giles, arrested Wednesday night last by Officer O. S. Mayberry with a quart of whisky and a pistol in his pocket was this morning tried and fined on both charges, being assessed $51 and costs a thirty days suspended jail term on the liquor charge and $20 and costs on the concealed weapon warrant. He was stated in his plea that he was charged with $20 when it should have been $250. This was a typographical error as the amount of the bond was $250.

Mrs. L. E. Stevens was acquitted of a charge of assaulting Mrs. J. T. Wiggs.

Claud Cassell was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail and fined ten dollars and costs on a charge of stealing an overcoat and a pair of gloves valued at $40 from J. V. Hick.

For violating the Mapp liquor law Paul Yeatts was fined $51 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail, the sentence being suspended.

Otis Jarrett was assessed $51 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail for violating the Mapp liquor law and an additional fine of $21 and costs on a reckless driving charge.

Warrants charging Charles Gray with reckless driving and assaulting Charles Poteat by striking him with his machine and with driving his car without proper brakes, were continued until tomorrow.

A fine of $21 and costs was assessed Henry Pinkard for speeding.

W. R. Gibbs was acquitted of driving a car while drunk and assaulting J. W. Boggs.

Warrants against Henry B. Sykes and W. H. Hurdle for violating the traffic ordinance, were dismissed at costs.

John Marshall, colored, was fined $5 and costs for gambling.

Arthur Motley, colored, is being held under bond of $500 on a charge of attempted criminal assault on Weine Davis, wife of Zanitha Davis. Motley confesses that he used to go with Weine and that it had been a long time since they had seen each other. When they met, he declares the negroes threw her arms around him and embraced him and they only exchanged pleasant memories. The husband learned of the affair and brought the serious charge against Motley.

Two Men Are Kidnapped, One Given Flogging

(By The Associated Press.)

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 2.—A band of unmasked men severely dogged Joe Westbrook, 23, last night after kidnapping him and Lon Johnson, also 23 years of age.

Two men leaped from behind a door at Westbrook's rooming place, seized the two and rushed them in an automobile, in which other men were waiting, to the Trinity River bottoms. Westbrook says he thinks Johnson was not flogged.

A detective investigating the flogging said that a woman informed him that Westbrook is charged with having kicked a woman at the State Fair.

APPOINTMENT DELAYED

The appointment of a successor to Rev. J. C. Robertson as a member of the city home commission will probably be made for several days. It is understood that the public works committee of the council has elected to permit the commission to name a successor the committee to formally ratify this choice by appointment. Working plans and specifications are still in course of preparation for the city home and bids will be asked for as soon as the plans have been worked out.

WALTON CHALLENGES CHARGES AGAINST HIM

(By The Associated Press.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 2.—Governor J. C. Walton will go before the Senate court of impeachment today to challenge many of the charges upon which he is being tried for official misconduct.

Argument on his demurrer to 14 of the 22 articles constituting the indictment upon which he was impeached will be heard, with the prospect that legal jockeying over the action will prevent actual beginning of the trial until next Monday or Tuesday.

After a decision on the demurrer, the governor must enter his formal plea.

Charging that the 14 allegations either do not constitute impeachable offenses or are based on insufficient evidence, counsel for the executive filed the demurrer at the close of the first session of the hearing late yesterday after failing in their efforts to obtain a continuance and to quash the entire bill of impeachment.

Immediately a Senate committee

began an investigation of alleged newspaper charges that bribes had been offered two members of the court.

The editors of the Muskogee Times—Democrat and the newspaper staff representative here were questioned for some time but nothing could be learned as to the trend of the testimony. It is understood other witnesses will be summoned today.

Counsel for the governor based their motion to quash on lengthy review of the conditions in the state, which, they said, intended to prove the existence of a Ku Klux Klan conspiracy to remove Governor Walton from office. They also contended that they had not had time to prepare an adequate defense and requested a ten-day postponement of the trial. Both motions were overruled.

Throughout yesterday's session Governor Walton sat with his attorneys and puffed continually at his corn pipe. He watched the proceedings calmly, sometimes with an apparent air of boredom.

Sportsmen Start Drive For Big Game Preserve

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—If a national bird, game and fish preserve is made of approximately 14,000 acres of bottom marsh lands of the upper Mississippi river, now advocated by business men, conservationists, sportsmen and the Isaac Walton League of America, one of the greatest breeding grounds in the United States will be founded, according to Will H. Dile, president of the league.

The 300 miles of land stretching from Lake Pepin, Minnesota, to Rock Island, Illinois, on the south, constitute the most prolific spawning grounds for all warm water game and food fishes. Mr. Dile said as well as an exceptional breeding section for small game mammals and the greatest hatchery for birds in the country. He asserted that in 1921 nearly 24,000,000 fish were rescued from the land-locked waters of the lands of this region, which the biological survey estimated at a value of $1,200,000.

Agitation toward setting aside this section as a preserve began after a group of real estate operators proposed to dyke and drain the Wisconsin bottoms of the Mississippi river, lying on the Wisconsin side between De Soto and Lynxville. The war department had granted permission to drain the land when it came to the attention of the league and an appeal to the supreme court of Wisconsin temporarily held up the plan, according to Mr. Dile.

Turf Enthusiasts Look Forward to Races Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—Interest in the Latona championship, which had become both general and widespread since it was learned that the race would bring together the international champion Zev and My Own, was further stimulated by the announcement that the Kanoeus Star would arrive at the track today, thus completing the field of contenders in Saturday's feature event.

Horsemen and racegoers who have been looking forward to the arrival of the conqueror of Papyrus, were prepared to accord the famous racer a tremendous reception.

My Own, Admiral Cary T. Grayson's candidate, was pronounced fit following a mile gallop yesterday. Trainer W. H. Brooks said, however, the horse would be given a brisk trial today as a final preparation.

James Rose, Jr., who will saddle Rialto for the championship, said the Green tree colts race in the Washington handicap was such a smashing one that he believed the son of Chile stands an excellent chance to defeat so fine a trio as Zev, My Own and In Memoriam. Jockey Frank Colletti will ride Rialto.

Many Kentuckians continued to pin their faith and hopes on In Memoriam. Carl Wedemann's capable son of Moccie, which probably will be the lone Western contender in the race. This, regardless of the fact that the best the East could produce has been shipped here to battle for supremacy of the three-year-old division and the $50,000 prize.

The distance of a mile and three quarters will test the stamina as well as the speed of the contenders and followers of the local horse content that this condition makes it anybody's race until the numbers are called up.

Samuel C. Hildreth, trainer of Zev, arrived in Cincinnati last night. His only comment was:

"Zev is a great colt and will prove it in his race with My Own and the other horses tomorrow. He likes, as you probably know, a fast or a slow track and if defeated we will have no excuses to offer."

Requests for reservations continue to pour in and it was believed the crowd in Saturday would exceed all previous records at Latona.

Continue Billiard Matches Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Edouard Florenens, Belgian title-holder who was defeated 500 to 435 last night by William F. Hoppe, world's champion, this afternoon will meet Roker, Comil of France in the 18.2 ball line billiard championship tournament.

Tonight Jake Schaeffer, son of the late champion and himself a title-holder, will play with the German champion, Erich Hagenlacher.

Hagenlacher staged an upset yesterday afternoon in disposing of Welker Cochran of Los Angeles 500 to 323. Schaeffer, the only undefeated player in the tournament, defeated Con-

Carter Diffey and Arnold Will Be Va. Mainstays

UNIVERSITY, Va., Nov. 1.—Benny Arnold and Carter Diffey will be the mainstays of the University of Virginia in the game with Washington and Lee on Saturday as far as the offense is concerned. In the defense, but if Coach Neale follows anything like the same policy against the Generals as against Trinity last week a good many other Virginia backfield men may get into action.

With Diffey running the eleven a quarterback and Arnold in left half either Sam Maphis or Paul Walp will fill the other halfback position, with Malt Wilson as fullback. This is the backfield that will probably star against the Generals.

But if Virginia has any offensive strength at all it is in the reserve power of her backfield and during the contest Henry Foster, Mike Hubbard, Tom McCoy, Hal Little, Bruce Carne, Bobby Taylor, Don Darby, Allison Leach and Matt Gibson may all be called upon.

Diffey came into the limelight as a quarterback against Trinity when he ran for long gains through the Blue Devils. Three times he carried over a touchdown, and he had crossed the goal line a fourth time after a 40 yard run, but Virginia was called back for being off-side.

On the Culver Military Academy team, of which he was captain in his first year, Diffey received valuable training especially during a period in which Rockne, of Notre Dame, gave some of the Culver lads special coaching. In the St. Johns and V. M. I. games Diffey worked well as an end, but not until he was given his chance behind the line could he demonstrate his ability as a team general and a broken field runner.

POLO HORSE BREAKS NECK

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—There is sadness at Mitchell Field, Long Island today, for Spaghetti is no more. Hero of America's recent victory over Great Britain on the polo field and one of the most valuable ponies in the country, Spaghetti went west via the suicide route in a fit of despondency.

It was all because polo officials, in an effort to extend utmost courtesy to polo ponies here from England, had removed Spaghetti from his royal stall and put him in a makeshift stall near the reservation gate. Spaghetti was being led from his stall by a groom today he dashed at a charged head on into a fence and broke his neck.

Major Terry Allen, who rode the horse in recent international matches said that only Monday he refused $5,000 for Spaghetti.

Suffering Woman's Neighbor Urged Her to Take Cardui—She Did, and Says She "Began Feeling Fine."

Inman, S. C.—"When Mrs. Elsie Peck, of Inman, was suffering severely some time ago, several of her old neighbors, noticed her condition and wisely advised her to take Cardui. 'I was sick and weak and had pain in my side,' says Mrs. Peck, 'was so weak-looking, until some of my older neighbors asked me about my condition. I told them I was very sick and back hurt and how it hurt me I stand. They told me of Cardui and my husband got it for me. I took four bottles and began feeling just fine. I helped me a lot. 'When my last baby came, I evidently took cold. I suffered afterwards quite a bit. I sent for Cardui and could see I was getting the usual good results. After about four bottles I was up, feeling fine, doing my work. 'Cardui builds me right up and tell my neighbors and friends about it. It is simply fine for weak back and run-down system. 'You probably have neighbors like Mrs. Peck, who can tell you of the help Cardui has been to them. As the ladies who have taken it and the take it yourself. 'At all druggists.'"

Floyd Johnson Meets Canadian Fighter Tonight

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight and Floyd Johnson of Iowa, battle tonight in the main event of an all heavyweight card at Madison Square Garden.

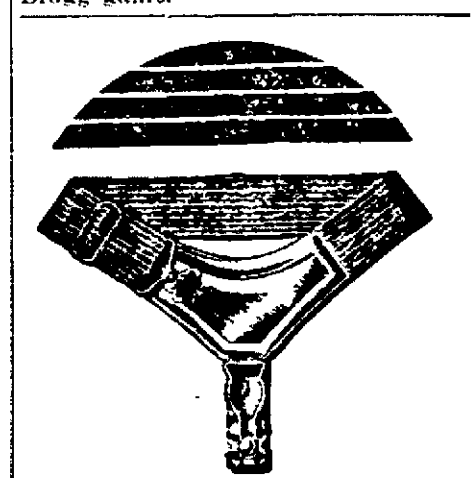

Renault has been established a favorite among ring followers who believe his heavier hitting powers and ruggedness will overcome Johnson's courage and aggressiveness. They are matched for 15 rounds.

FORT BRAGG TO PLAY BAPTISTS

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 1.—While Coach Garrity's Demon Deacons take a little rest and look to the Trinity game in Winston, the Wake Forest freshmen will meet the heavy team from Fort Bragg on Saturday.

In their opening game last week the freshmen showed the power of their drive in the 66 to 0 win over Wingate college. The Fort Bragg outfit, however, is heavier and has had more experience and an interesting game is expected.

The rest which Coach Garrity is going to give his Demon Deacons on Saturday will be the first breathing spell that they have had since practice was started two weeks before the opening of college. For the benefit of any visitors who haven't yet got a glance at the varsity, Garrity may ask some of the men to report on the field in uniform before the Freshmen-Bragg game.

CHOLERA KILLS HOGS OF NATION

The Bureau of Animal Industry, announcing this estimate today, said losses were heaviest in Iowa, Nebraska, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Georgia, Minnesota and South Dakota.
The total number of swine lost from hog cholera exceeded 2,250,000, valued at approximately $29,393,000.

No Nut, Cracker

by Joe Williams

There is no mystery about the great Harvard system this year. It consists largely of seeing how much punishment the boys can take.

Funny, ain't it, how a gang of football morons with a husky line and a set of feet backs can make an elaborate system look like a set of run-down rubber heels?

Down in the betting tent where the wagers are paid off they don't ask you what system you used, but where you finished.

It takes all sorts of curious souls to populate a planet, including the bird who gets up the football diagrams for the Sunday papers.

Strangest thing about Notre Dame's success is that all the experts predicted a great year for the team.

Football Played For Gain Branded

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Branding professional football as a "menace" working for the destruction of the college game, Amos Alonzo Stagg, 62 years old director of athletics at the University of Chicago, tonight addressed a letter "to all friends of college football" urging them to refrain from in any manner encouraging the professional sport.

Stagg, whose reputation for the development of amateur athletics has made him a national figure, declared that to "patronize Sunday professional football is to co-operate with the forces which are destructive of the inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate football and to add to the heavy burden of the schools and colleges in preserving it in its ennobling worth."

Declaring that football, when played with the amateur spirit, possessed more elements for the development of character and manhood than any other sport, Coach Stagg said that if you believe in preserving inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate football for the upbuilding of the present and future generations of clean, healthy, right-minded and patriotic citizens, you will not lend your assistance to any of the forces helping to destroy it.

"There is nothing a bunch of gamblers will not do for their purpose and quite often they carry along with them the support of a group of well-meaning citizens," the veteran coach wrote.

Lynchburg at Guilford.

(By The Associated Press.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 1.—The Lynchburg College football team left this afternoon for Guilford, N. C., where they will meet Guilford College on the gridiron tomorrow. Several Hornet regulars are said to be in bad condition, including Campbell, Nee, Parker, Kick and others, but all are expected to get into the game. The game between the teams stands two won for Lynchburg College and one for Guilford.

Suspension Ordered

(By The Associated Press.)

RUCHALIST, Nov. 1.—The Russian military authorities have ordered suspension of the compulsory repatriation of refugees to Soviet Russia, the newspaper Adversal reports. The decision was taken following the return of War Minister Morozov from Tiflis, where he conferred with the Soviet delegation, the paper says.

YOU CAN QUICKLY LIMBER UP SORE, STIFF, SWOLLEN JOINTS

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder Or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here right in town and every drugstore has it.

It's a low price remedy, too, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness, or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments. Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter-irritant, it cannot help bringing speed and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and rheumatism much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will be yours after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

Ruth's Comeback a Great Victory

By BILLY EVANS.

They never come back, has long been a sport adage. It might be more truthful to say they seldom come back. It seems there are exceptions to every rule.

Babe Ruth is a striking example of a star ball player who staged a comeback in every sense of the word. It might be argued that Babe never went away.

A year ago at this time the popularity of the great slugger was at a low ebb. Hershby of the St. Louis Cardinals and Williams of the St. Louis Browns, both had made more home runs than Ruth. Hershby with 42, and Williams with 39, had quite an edge on Ruth, who finished with only 35. True, Ruth had been kept out of the game for eight weeks because of the decree of Judge Landis, Ruth having violated the barnstorming rules. That was a big handicap. Then, for the second time in a world series, Ruth had failed to do the things predicted. The pitchers had simply toyed with the great slugger in both events. The great Ruth, the idol of thousands of fans, had been a "bust." Fickle fandom was prepared to confer on him many wreaths of razberries.

Was On Dividing Line
Ruth realized that he was on the dividing line, either he must come back or, like many other stars, slip back into obscurity. Ruth told the world that he was going to come back, and do it with a vengeance.

The big fellow spent most of the winter on a newly purchased farm in Massachusetts. He was the first to report for spring training. When the American League season opened, Ruth was in perfect physical condition. Careful training had taken off 30 pounds of superfluous weight that had showed up his fielding and handicapped his batting.

Ruth started on the road to prosperity in the very first game of the season, hitting a mighty drive into the rightfield bleachers at the Yankee Stadium before close to 70,000 fans. Ruth kept up the good work throughout the season, tended strictly to business. He was unanimously selected as the most valuable player in the American League. In baseball circles the saying is, "As Ruth goes, goes the Yankees." Ruth had the greatest year of his career. The Yankees won the American League pennant in a breeze.

Fandom Was Kind.

What would Ruth do in the world series? Would he continue his great work or again fail? For the first time, Ruth was his real self in the big event. He went big and the Yankees won.

The fans were with Ruth, they admired him for his comeback against great odds. In other series when he struck out the fans razzed him, this year he was cheered to the echo no matter what he did.

On one occasion, after striking out, he got a reception that compared favorably with the applause that greeted one of his homers. Hank Gowdy, who was catching for the Giants, turned to me and remarked:

"He must be a great man. When he hits a home run the fans cheer, when he strikes out, more cheering." The case of Ruth proves there is some sentiment in fandom. They wanted to show the big fellow they were with him.

EDDIE COLLINS WOULD MANAGE A MAJOR OUTFIT

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Eddie Collins, star second baseman of the Chicago White Sox and recently mentioned as a possibility to succeed "Kid" Gleason as manager of the club, is under consideration for management of the Washington Americans, according to reports in baseball circles here tonight.

Collins aspires to be a major league manager and with the selection of Frank Chance to pilot the White Sox next season, is said to have advised President Comiskey of his desire.

While the prospective trade has not yet reached the stage of actual negotiations, officials of the White Sox indicated tonight that a deal was shaping.

From the same source, it was learned that Gleason was being considered for the managerial berth of the Boston National League club.

ATTENDANCE ON INCREASE

(By The Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Total attendance at Cleveland American League home games last season 11,847,400, according to the league's annual report, was $55,000 in round numbers, which is more than $6,000 above the 1922 attendance.

MEXICO'S "HENRY FORD" BOOMED FOR PRESIDENT

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—There's a movement in Mexico for Carlos Zetina as president.

It started just as the Ford boom materialized in the United States—out of nothing, overnight.

It doesn't seem to interest Zetina any more than the Ford boom seemed to interest Henry Ford. Like Ford, Zetina is an industrial genius, not a politician. He's suited with his present job.

Like Ford, Zetina started with nothing. Like Ford, Zetina became a multimillionaire in comparatively a few years. Like Ford, Zetina's fortune is regarded by everybody as an honest one. No charge of unfairness ever was made in connection with the methods by which it was piled up.

Like Ford, Zetina, got the right hunch at the psychological moment and played it for all it was worth. Like Ford, Zetina's an apostle of standardization. Ford makes autos; Zetina makes shoes.

Self-Made Man

Like Ford, Zetina, intensely practical, is intensely idealistic, too. Zetina was born at San Andres Chalchicomula, state of Puebla. He was 10 when his father died. As a grocer's errand boy, he supported his mother on a $3 a month. Then he worked for a soap maker at 37 cents a day. At 14 he made a man's wages, in a tannery. Toiling 16 hours daily, he found time to educate himself.

Aged 24 he had $2,935. He's exact about this sum. With it he began making shoes. Today his plant is the famous Fabrica Calzados Excelsior, or Factory of the Excelsior Shoe.

Zetina sees every detail of manufacture and distribution clear thru from the preparation of hides to the sale of finished shoes, through 35 agencies and retail stores throughout Mexico.

The Excelsior factory employs about 1000 hands. Daily it turns out from 2000 to 3000 pairs of footwear.

Model Factory

Excelsior pays highest wages than any factory in the country.

American manufacturers who have visited it pronounce it a model. Generally Zetina aims at perfection. He seeks beauty of surroundings for his workers, too. It adds to their efficiency, he says.

CARLOS ZETINA

Connected with the plant are a school, a library, a hospital and a co-operative general store. Medical attendance is provided. Employees' insurance and pensions are features of the system.

Adjoining the factory, Zetina has bought a large tract on which he is building model houses the workers may buy making payment in a series of installments covering 10 years.

Zetina differs from Ford in that he has had some experience in public life. He doesn't seek office but he accepts it when it comes his way. He has been mayor of Mexico City and a member of both houses of Congress. But he has never been classified as a party man.

BLUE NOSE AGAIN CHAMPION BOAT

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—The Blue Nose of Lunenburg for the third consecutive year is champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleets.

In "fisherman's weather," today, the Nova Scotia vessel defeated the American challenger Columbia, of Gloucester, no longer her second victory of the 1923 series and retaining the International Fisherman's Trophy which she won from the Gloucesterman Elsie two years off this port and defeated last year against the Henry Ford at Gloucester.

With the cup goes to the victor $4,000 of the stake offered for the annual series.

It was a race from starting signal to finish. On Monday, the Blue Nose defeated the Columbia in light airs, said to be the Gloucester schooner's best chance. Yesterday, the Columbia, with redoubled hail, outlasted the Canadian boat in breezes so light that the vessels were unable to finish in the time limit. Today, the Blue Nose had heavy weather, with the wind rising from 15 to 30 knots and over the 22 mile course, she won by a margin of two and three quarter minutes.

BOXERS COMPLETE THEIR TRAINING

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, and Floyd Johnson, of Des Moines, Iowa, completed training today for their 15-round match tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

Renault has been mentioned in the contest as the victor will win a match in the heavyweight title contention.

Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will be restored. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

UNDERWOOD DOES NOT REFER TO HIS BEING CANDIDATE (By The Associated Press.)

FRANKLIN, KY., Nov. 1—Without referring to the fact that his hat is in the ring for the Democratic nomination for president, Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama addressed a political speech to a gathering of Simpson county Democrats here yesterday. The speech was devoted to a summary of problems which Mr. Underwood declared now are before the Democratic party and the American people.

The speaker gave a detailed review of accomplishments of the Democratic party during the administration of Woodrow Wilson, and said labor and agriculture had benefited during the Wilson administration.

The most pressing need of the American farmer today, he asserted, was a foreign market for his products. The Republican party, he added, had through its foreign policy, closed European markets to American producers of agricultural products.

BORAH WILL REVIVE MEASURE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, announced today that when congress reconvenes he would revive his bill to shear the powers of the supreme court in declaring federal and state laws unconstitutional.

The bill would require at least seven of the nine justices to concur in nullifying a law, thus eliminating the criticism of "five to four" decisions. The senator said he did not favor the proposal of Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, leader of the Senate Radicals, for a constitutional amendment to enable congress by a two-thirds vote to override decisions of the supreme court overruling the constitutionality of law.

The Borah bill will also be introduced in the House.
